MR. R. L. RAMSEY

The Indians teaching the colonists to fish with bow and arrow

Foreword

We, the editors of THE FORUM, have worked faithfully and earnestly to produce this book. Through its pages we venture to herald a message of love and friendship, the code of which we have endeavored to live. If by chance you find in this book that which you do not like, exclude that from your thoughts. Retain only the most pleasant memories of the days spent at Fulton High School.

School History

While we are on the subject of bicentennials, let us consider the Fulton High School system and its growth in its seventeen years of existence from two garret rooms on Garnett Street to three large, modern, completely equipped school buildings—Fulton, North Fulton, and Russell High Schools. Just imagine what will be the growth of our system by the time it celebrates its two-hundredth anniversary!

Back in the good old days of 1915, Fulton County decided that its younger generation deserved a high school of its own. Two small, inadequately lighted rooms on the corner of Garnett and Whitehall Streets were rented and the first year they were filled to overflowing. The next year, a building on the corner of Whitehall and Trinity was used, and there Fulton remained until 1925, when it moved to the present site.

The first year passed, under the guidance of Professor Hopkins, with, of course, no graduating class and only four faculty members. Mr. Guy A. Moore succeeded Professor Hopkins. Then Mr. W. F. Dykes took the helm; and lastly, Mr. R. L. Ramsey, who is principal at the present time. These men, with the help of very able faculty members, have succeeded in making Fulton one of the foremost schools in the state.

Graduates from Fulton, continuing their higher education, have always ranked among the highest in scholarship. In sports Fulton generally excels. Between 1916 and 1920, the "Fulton Ferocious Feminine Five" was famous for its smashing victories in basketball. For further information on the subject, a sports feature section is included in our annual.

The R. O. T. C. of Fulton has won its honors under the able leadership of Sergeant R. L. Campbell. Major Bentyne, General Dashiell, Captain Orrill, and Lieutenant Fuller, who is also a faculty member, have assisted. The Fulton unit has won the position of honor school in the annual corps area inspection several times, and "A Company" has held a banner presented to the "Best Drilled Company in Fulton County" for several years.

Numerous clubs have been organized in the course of a few years, some of which are National Honor Society, Dramatic Club, Home Economics Club, Glee Club, Hi-Y Club, Literary Society, and Officers' Club.

Fulton High could never conscientiously complete a history without some mention of "Bob." Bob has been our janitor since the school began. He has always been more than willing to drop whatever he is doing in order to accommodate a student or teacher. For the last few years, Bob has had an assistant, Will.

If Fulton makes as much progress in the next hundred and eighty-three years in proportion to that it has made in the past seventeen, its bicentennial will be a great one.

CHARLES MOORE, '33.

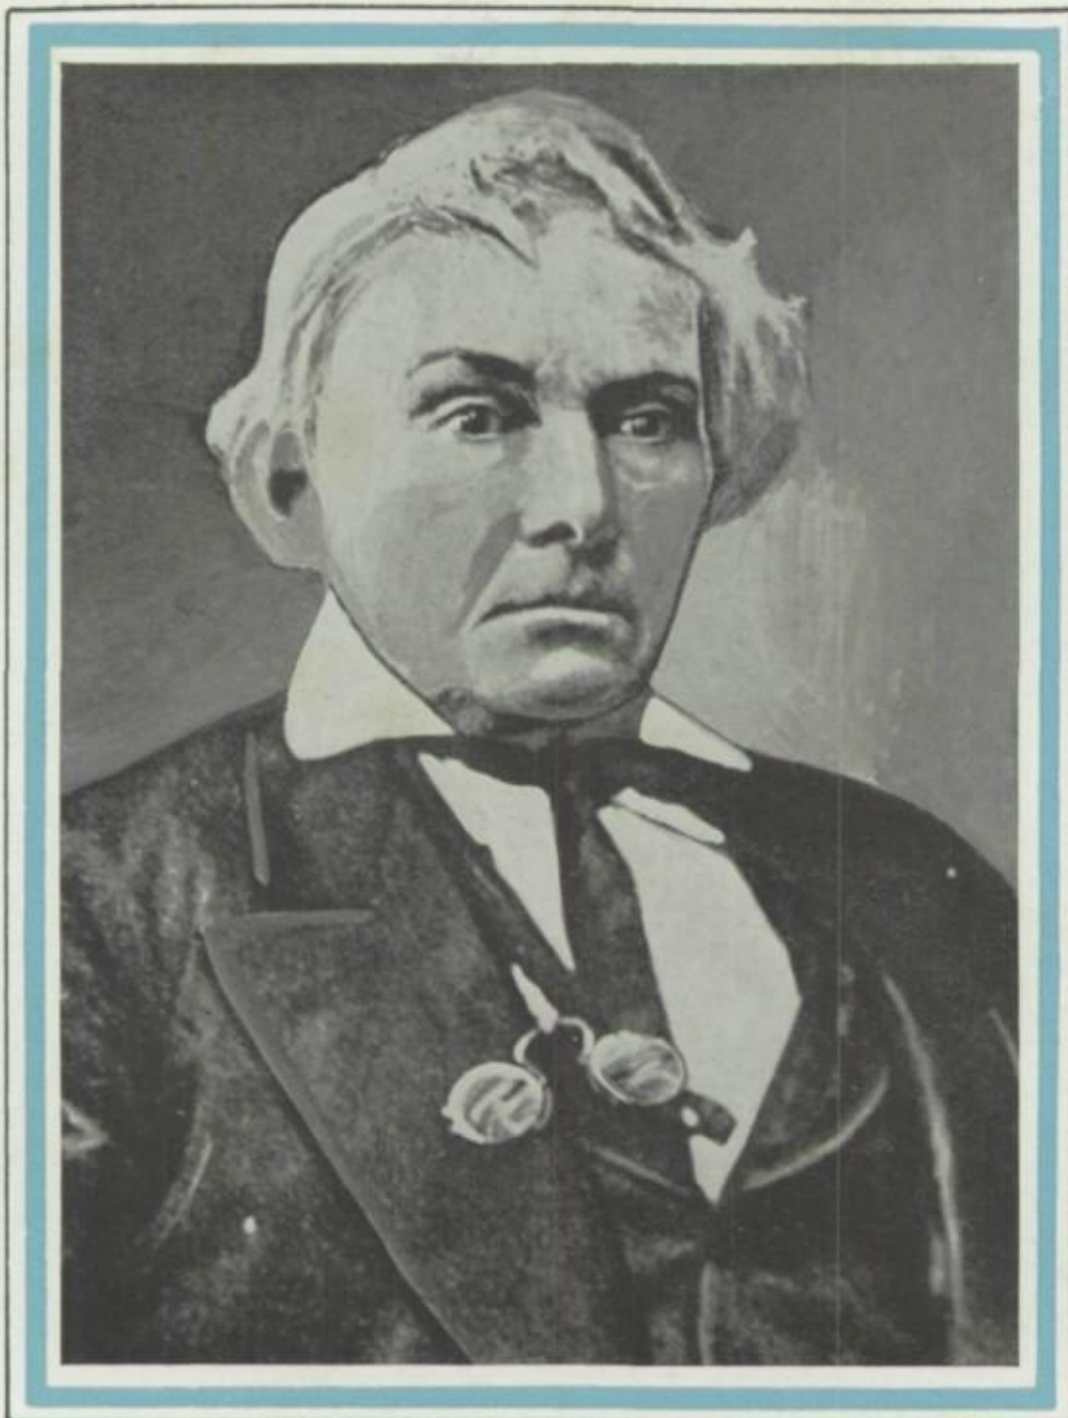

In Memoriam

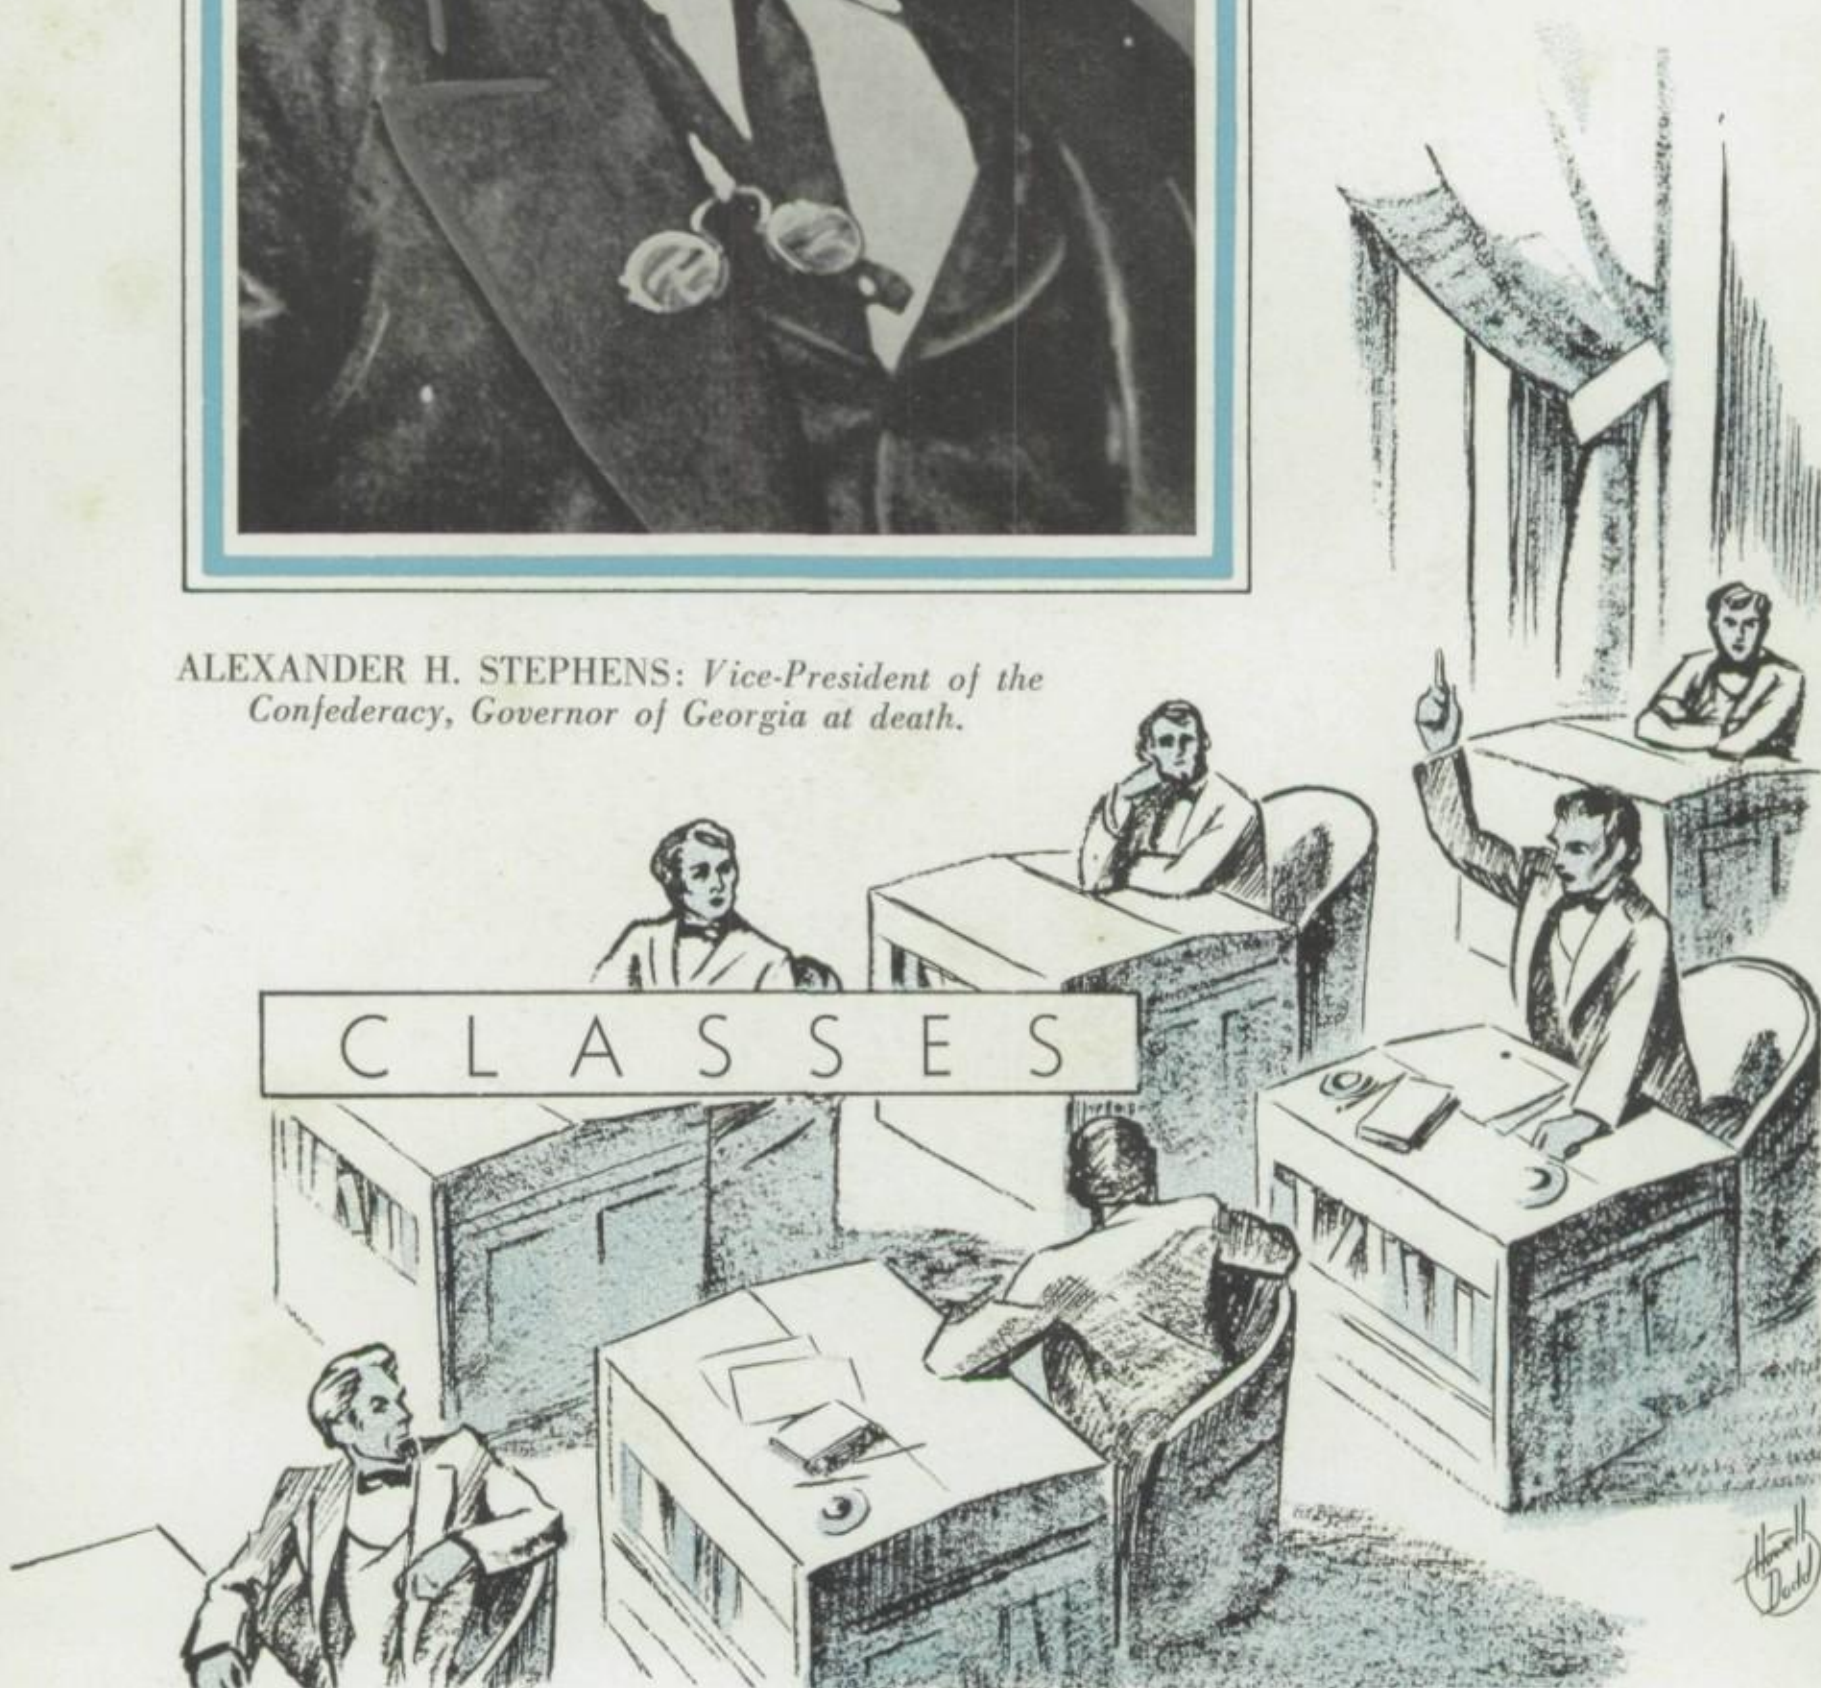

In memory of our beloved teacher, counsellor, and friend, Mrs. Ruth Ralston Johnson, who "has wrapped the drapery of her couch about her and lain down to pleasant dreams." She will live always in the hearts of those who were privileged to be associated with her here at Fulton High School. Died March 13, 1933.

Class History

On a bright September morning, four years ago, we began our high school career. We were bewildered and a little frightened at the newness and strangeness of everything. However, with the kind help of Professor Dykes and the faculty, we were soon settled. Debating and declaiming interested us, and we studied hard. We surprised our teachers by having a large number on the honor roll.

In the Fall of '30 quite a large number of students registered in Sophomore classes—all of them proud of the fact that they were Freshmen no longer. Many of them joined the Glee Club, Spanish Club, French Club, Girl Reserves, Home Economics Club, and Hi-Y Club. That year, as we gathered at Fulton, we missed several of our former teachers; Prof. Dykes and a few teachers had gone to North Fulton, but we were very glad to have Prof. R. L. Ramsey become our new Principal.

Our Junior year came, bringing many honors for us. We were very fortunate to have in our class the best drilled cadet of 1932, David Kierbow. One of our greatest honors was to have seven of our classmates elected to the National Honor Society—Kathleen Reynolds, Dorothy Ruth Moore, Nellie Biggers, Tommie Wells, Opal Edwards, Elizabeth Kingston, and Sara Lewis. The knowledge that royal blood ran in the Junior Class was unknown until Bessie Ross and E. P. Osborne were elected king and queen of Fulton's Fall Festival. The dance we gave the Seniors at Buckhead Theater Dance Hall must not be forgotten. We hope that the Seniors enjoyed it as much as we did.

At last we have become Seniors. We are so proud and feel very important—who wouldn't be? Our class consists of three home classes, D-1, D-2, and D-3. Mr. White, Miss Shannon and Mrs. Murrell are our home room teachers.

It seems that as the years have gone by our honors have increased. James Moore was chosen as all N. G. I. C. forward. Marshall Coursey was elected king of our Fall Festival. The following were elected as new members of the National Honor Society: Willie Mae Crawford, Mary Walker, Mary Jenkins, Edna Smith, Evelyn Bates, Frances Finch and Evelyn Robinson.

We are about to finish our high school career. Some of us will get a higher education; some of us will go out into the world and face life. Whatever we do and wherever we go, we shall always hold in remembrance our days at Fulton.

KATHLEEN REYNOLDS, '33.

MARY WALKER, '33.

Class Poem

*There's a school we treasure, oh, so much,
Our dear old Fulton High.
And, though we're leaving very soon,
In our hearts we'll be standing by.
We love our honored faculty
And each of our classmates, too;
Always—in retrospection—
Will be sweet memories of you.*

*Oh, Fulton High, when we think of you
'Twill dispel every shadow of gloom;
Our voices we'll raise in anthems of praise
Like the sweet, fragrant roses in bloom.
Our lips are filled with love and pride,
And thoughts will forever fly
Back to the days we spent with you,
Our dear old Fulton High.*

*'Tis goodbye, now, pleasant dreaming,
Gay hearts and glad voices will ring;
Social hours with gladness teeming
All too swiftly on the wing.
Hearts like ours forget you never
As the parting hours draw nigh,
Always loyal, loving ever
Our own dear old Fulton High.*

Alma Mater

*Fulton, Fulton! our dear school,
This song we sing to thee,
Of worthy praise of our school days
Of love and loyalty,
Oh Fulton, dear Fulton High,
Oh proud indeed are we
Of our great school, its golden rule
And honored faculty.*

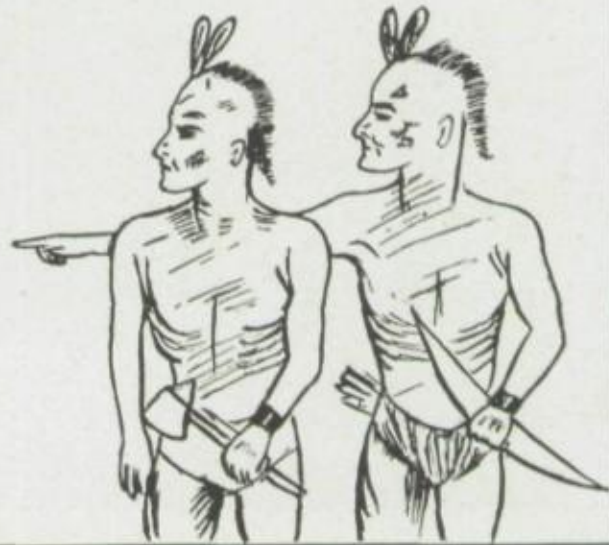

*Oh God above, help us, we pray,
To keep our morals high,
Our conscience right, our armor bright
With truth and honesty.
Oh Fulton High, dear Fulton High,
May this our motto be,
"As proud as I'm of Fulton High
I'll make her proud of me."*

*Oh Fulton High, in future years
When dark clouds do appear,
The thoughts of you, so good and true,
Will make them disappear.
Oh Fulton High, dear Fulton High,
We never shall forget,
The golden haze of happy days
Dwells around us yet.*

Junior Class History

Three years ago, in 1930, we, the present Junior Class, were ushered (like wooden soldiers) into the seemingly spacious auditorium of Fulton High School. Indeed, we felt very dignified, but not for long. We jumped at every word uttered and soon learned the whys, hows, and wherefores of Fulton. We were then divided into different classes, A-1, A-2, A-3, etc.

In our Sophomore year, like the previous one, we were divided into several sections. Now we felt like a real part of the school, and our attitude showed that we thought ourselves above the Freshmen. During this time several Sophomores won medals for their good work. We took considerable part in all the school activities—Girl Reserves, Commercial Club, Home Economics Club, and Glee Club.

Now we are in our Junior year. We entered school this year with the strong determination to cooperate with the Senior Class in every way possible. We are endeavoring to make the Junior-Senior dance a grand affair that will always be remembered by each and every member of the Senior Class.

Next year, as Seniors, we are hoping to do great things. We are delighted with the prospect of being Seniors, and realize that the full weight of responsibility will be placed on our shoulders. This is causing us to assume a gloomy expression. We leave with regret the joys of our Junior year, but anticipate with pride the wonderful event of being Seniors.

When the call for candidates was issued by Coach Pittman, our new coach, about thirty-three boys answered the call. Among the lettermen back were Wooten, Osborne, Adams, M. Coursey, Langley, and Elrod. After three weeks of hard work and training, the team journeyed to Griffin for a night game. The team was composed mostly of first year men, and although the boys scrapped hard and to the end, they were at the short end of a 19-6 score.

Coach Pittman made some improvements in the team before the next game, with Gainesville. But, due to injuries, the team was not in its full strength and was on the little end of the score. The punting of Osborne and the passing of McDonald were accurate. Knight, Langley and Elrod in the line were good.

The next week we met Decatur and still were on the short end of the score, but this was not so bad, as Decatur has not lost a game in three years. Wooten, Adams and M. Coursey were best for Fulton.

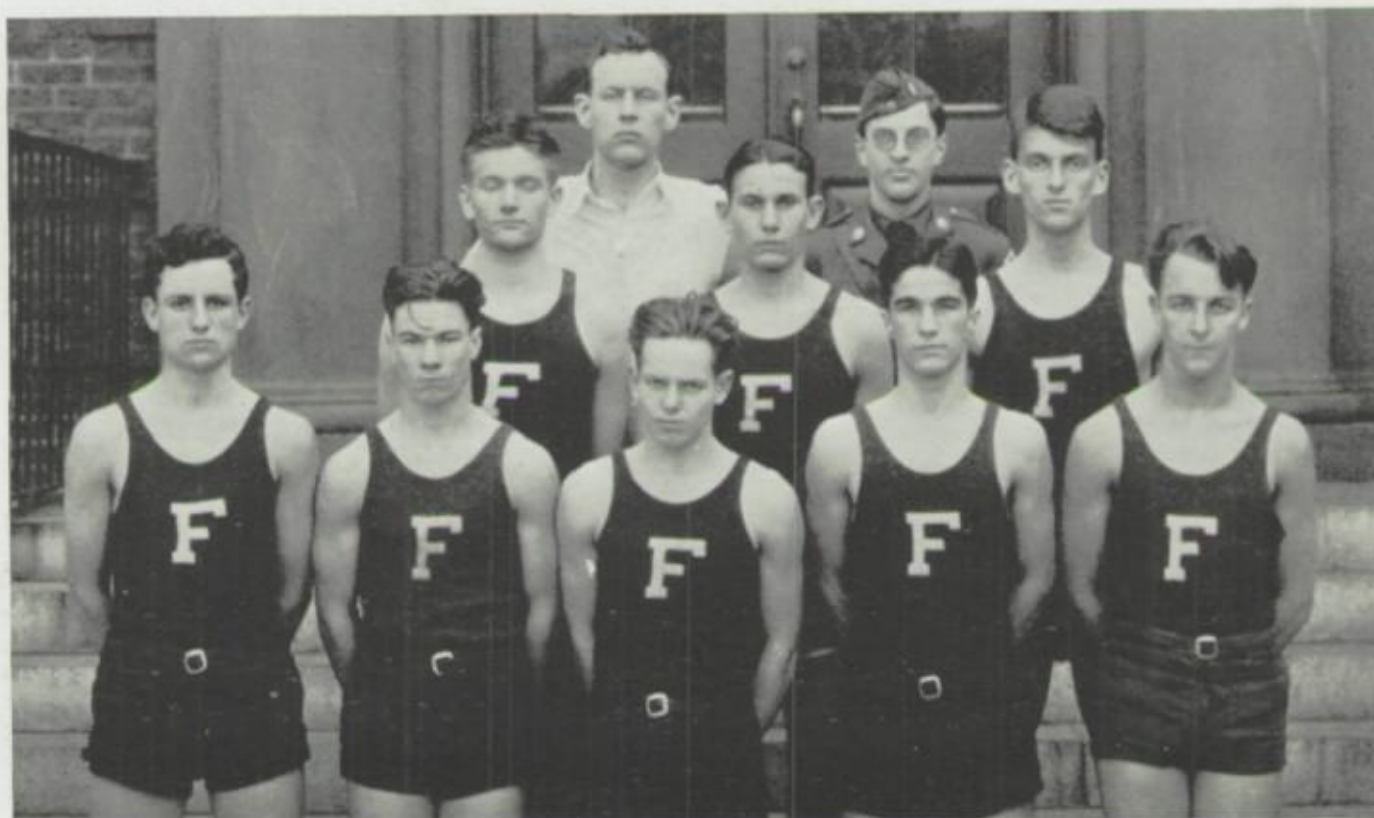

The Fultonites awoke in the next game. They swamped the fast Druid Hills team 19-0. Leonard Fisher, 113-pound halfback, ran 50 yards for a touchdown. "Pig" Gilleland intercepted a pass and ran 35 yards. Griffith showed promise of adding strength to the team.

Rome was the next opponent. Although Osborne punted well and Harrison, Langley and Elrod were scrapping, the game ended in favor of Rome.

The next week Coach Pittman developed a splendid aerial attack. But when the day came to play Russell, it had to be played in mud and rain. The whole team played its best, though handicapped.

With graduation taking only a few of the regulars, the "Red Elephants" should have a good season next year.

Basket-ball

Basket-balls started flying at the J. P. C. Court after about fifteen candidates reported to practice. After a few weeks of practice, the number was thinned out until only nine remained. The letter men returning from the previous year were: Gilleland and H. McDonald, guards; Moore, forward; M. McDonald, center. The new members were Harrison, Elrod, Carroll, and Brooks.

On the whole, we had a very successful season. We played three practice games with Druid Hills and defeated them each time by a large score. During the Christmas holidays we played Chamblee and chalked up another victory by the score of 24-10.

Our first two games in the N. G. I. C. conference were played with Russell High. The first was played on the J. P. C. Court and Russell squeezed out a victory by the narrow margin of 15-14, but the following week we journeyed to the Calvary Court and defeated Russell 26-18.

The next two games were with Decatur and Griffin. The Decatur quintet proved strong, and Fulton came out on the little end of the score, which was 27-15. The Griffin game turned out to be the most exciting one of the season. It was a close battle from beginning to end, but Fulton finally won, when, in the last ten seconds of play, Harrison sunk a snow bird. The score was 30-29. Our winning streak held and we beat Marist 38-26, but a few days later we met defeat at the hands of Gainesville.

We were defeated in the N. G. I. C. tournament by Decatur. Two weeks later we opened the Fifth District Tournament being held at Tucker, with Marist, and overcame them with a score of 29-14. But, alas! two nights later we again met Decatur, who seemed to be our jinx for the season, and, although we were leading at the half, they came out on the long end of a 27-21 score.

Due credit should be given to Coach Mac for his untiring efforts and splendid coaching ability in developing this basket-ball team.

Baseball

At the beginning of the baseball season the prospects for a winning team at Fulton were very discouraging. Such stars as Mullins, Ford, and Roberts, who had been the backbone of the championship team of 1931, were no longer at Fulton, but Coach Hope set about with his accustomed zeal and intelligent leadership to mold the best team possible out of the material at hand. Osborne, "Good Old Pete," was transformed from a first baseman to a pitcher; Simonton was brought in from out field and placed at short; Moody was shifted to third, and Giles to the out field. So the team that finally met the approval of the coach consisted of Adams, first base; Moore, second base; Simonton, shortstop; Moody and Jordan, third base; Rooks and Morris, left field; Giles and Dickson, center field; Clonts and Barfield, right field; Wooten, Purcell, and Allen, catchers; and Osborne, McKinley, Gorman, and Griswell, as pitchers.

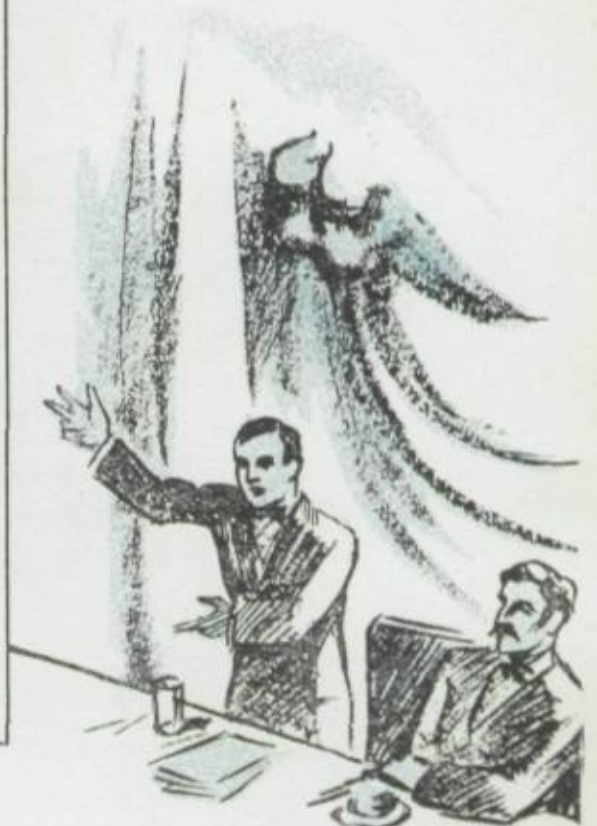

With this line-up we played sixteen games in the N. G. I. C. conference, winning fourteen and losing two, ending the season with the best percentage of any team in the conference and Fulton, thereby, for the second year in succession, was declared the champions of the conference!

Practically the entire personnel of the 1932 championship team will be available for the season of 1933. With these veterans on hand, in addition to several bright prospects among the new students, and above all, with the wise coaching of Professor Hope, the outlook for the team of 1933 is most encouraging, and this scribe hopes that it will have a most successful season.

A priest offered twenty-five cents to the boy who could tell him who was the greatest man in history.

"Christopher Columbus," answered the Italian boy.

"George Washington," answered the American lad.

"St. Patrick," shouted the Jewish boy.

"The quarter is yours," said the priest, "but why did you say St. Patrick?"

"Right down in my heart I know it was Moses," said the Jewish boy, "but business is business."

A Sunday School teacher asked Tom Calloway if he knew how the first woman was made.

"Yes," he said, "from the jawbone of an ass."

★ ★ ★

Louise Long: "My little sister looks just exactly like me."

Leland Stith: "I wouldn't worry about it so long as she is healthy."

Mrs. White: "Darling, since Betty is almost ready to enter school, I think we had better buy an encyclopedia."

Mr. White: "Oh, heck! Let her walk, like I do."

★ ★ ★

Mr. Ramsey (in the auditorium): "I am afraid I have spoken at rather great length. There is no clock in the room and I must apologize for not having a watch with me."

A voice from the balcony: "There's a calendar behind you, mister."

Customer: "What does this mean? There is a fly in the bottom of my teacup."

Waitress: "Why should I know? I'm a waitress, not a fortune teller."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Murrell (answering telephone): "You say Hugh Pierce can't come to school today because of a cold? Who is this speaking?"

Voice (with assumed hoarseness): "This is my father."

Evelyn Bates returned from school with a perplexed brow.

"What's the matter, Evelyn?" asked her father.

"I can't get a certain sum right," returned Evelyn. "I wish you'd help me with it, Dad."

Her father shook his head. "Can't," he said, "it wouldn't be right."

"I don't suppose it would," Evelyn replied, "but you might have a try."

Mrs. Carmichael: "Your boy friend talks too much. He rattles on like a flivver. I'm afraid he is a flat tire."

Mary: "I know, ma, but his clutch is grand."

"I don't want any callers this afternoon," said the business man to the office boy. "If they say their business is important, just tell them that's what they all say."

That afternoon a lady called and insisted on seeing him. "I am his wife," she exclaimed.

"That's what they all say," said the office boy.
